

Many changes have been made to the Tierra Bella routes this year! There are three new reststops and six new routes to choose from. We have something for every rider.

33M (33.7 miles, 893 ft) YELLOW

If you have not ridden much over the winter, we recommend this flat route through Gilroy and a big loop out to San Martin and then over to Chictactac-Adams County Park. There are lots of new roads and scenery to experience on this shorter route. Follow the yellow arrows.

100K (56.4 miles, 1948 feet) GREEN

This year we have four 100K's to choose from. This is the flattest, with no major climbs. It starts with a loop out to San Martin, then continues north to Coyote Valley Open Space Preserve at the halfway point. Heading south you climb up Willow Springs Rd, past both Chesbro and Uvas reservoirs to Chictactac-Adams County Park. Follow the green arrows.

Hilly Short 100K (53.9 miles, 2547 feet) BLUE

This 100K starts off with the traditional climb up to Gilroy Hot Springs followed by a descent of Canada Rd. Then you loop out to San Martin before heading over Day Rd to Chictactac-Adams County Park. Follow the blue arrows.

Hilly Long 100K (75.7 miles, 3397 feet) BLUE/GREEN

This 100K starts off with the traditional climb up to Gilroy Hot Springs followed by a descent of Canada Rd. Then you loop out to San Martin, then continue north to Coyote Valley Open Space Preserve. Heading south you climb up Willow Springs Rd, past both Chesbro and Uvas reservoirs to Chictactac-Adams County Park. Follow the blue arrows, then after San Martin Reststop follow the green arrows.

Very Hilly 100K (64.9 miles, 4646 feet) PINK

This 100K climbs up to Henry Coe, but without having to do a hundred miles. You will loop around to San Martin on your way there. Returning, you go to Chictactac-Adams County Park and straight back to Gilroy. Follow the pink arrows.

100M (97.8 miles, 6815 feet) ORANGE

This century ride contains all of the options from the 100K routes. First you climb up to Gilroy Hot Springs and descend Canada Rd. Then you go over past San Martin before starting the challenging climb up to Henry Coe. You next head north to Coyote Valley Open Space Preserve at mile 70. Heading south, you climb up Willow Springs Rd, past both Chesbro and Uvas reservoirs to get to Chictactac-Adams County Park. Follow the orange arrows.

We use "Ride With GPS" mileage and climbing totals. We will provide RideWithGPS downloadable routes to registered riders as the date approaches. These routes may be used off-line with the RideWithGPS smartphone apps and other GPS units.
